

Save money on insulation with anniversary discount

Reduce your heating bills and your carbon footprint with insulation and other energy saving products from Mickleton civil engineering company JMC Insulations Ltd.

The family business provides cavity wall insulation, loft insulation, ground source heating and solar panels for all types of home and commercial premises.

JMC Insulations Ltd is the sister company of J M Contracting Ltd, which was founded by its managing director John Mitchell when he decided to form his own company and leave his long standing employment with a major civil engineering firm after more than 30 years.

During that time John had formed business relationships with many contacts in the civil engineering and utilities sector and was able to offer a friendly and reliable service to a variety of customers. Starting with only a couple of employees back in 2004 the business has grown steadily in its five years and, in early 2008, JMC Insulations Ltd was formed.

Headed up by John's son Liam, the company offers a first-class service from a local base in Mickleton. All operatives work to the industry standard and are trained in their fields of work and to health and safety procedures.

Prices are always competitive but J M Contracting and its sister company JMC Insulations are celebrating the fifth anniversary of their incorporation in October 2004 with a special one-off promotion for Journal readers.

For the month of October only, you will qualify for a discount on the normal installation price if you accept your quotation by October 31. Call freephone 0800 9176862 to book your free survey and visit www.jmcinsulationsltd.com for further information.
